YOUR LETTERS

Who dunnit?

ANDREW O'HEHIR'S COVER story ("American neurosis," Dec. 18) is not worthy of your publication. Littering his psychobabble with misinformation, O'Hehir reduces the murder of a president to one event along the continuum of cultural happenings. Rather, the seizure of power by the reactionary elements of our government is an ugly reality that has corrupted our democracy and has propelled our country to the devastating results we face today.

O'Hehir says, "We'll never know who killed John Kennedy," which shows his ignorance of the subject. I suggest he go to the movie. If he can walk out of the theater without knowing who killed Kennedy, it is because he is a fool, not because JFK is a farce.

Andy, it's not about the dress that Jackie wore that day.
